Course Plan: Exploration en sciences humaines et sociales 11

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The primary goal of Social Studies education is to give students the knowledge, skills, and competencies to be active, informed citizens who are able to think critically, understand and explain the perspectives of others, make judgments, and communicate ideas effectively.

Through this course, students will learn to recognize and to response to genocide, study the effects of colonialism, explore the contemporary and historical issues that the First Nation people face, and get familiar with methods used by individuals, groups, and organizations to promote social justice and rights of individuals in Canada.

BIG IDEAS:

The Big Ideas consist of generalizations and principles and the key concepts important in an area of learning. They reflect the “Understand” component of the Know-Do-Understand model of learning. The big ideas represent what students will understand at the completion of the curriculum for their grade. They are intended to endure beyond a single grade and contribute to future understanding.

Indigenous peoples are reclaiming mental, emotional, physical, and spiritual well-being despite the continuing effects of colonialism (from Contemporary Indigenous Studies 12)	The intentional destruction of peoples and their cultures is not inevitable, and such attempts can be disrupted and resisted (from Genocide Studies 12)	Social justice initiatives can transform individuals and systems (from Social Justice 12)	A society’s laws and legal framework affect many aspects of people’s daily lives (from Law Studies 12)	While genocide are caused by and carried out for different reasons, all genocides share similarities in progression and scope.

CORE COMPETENCIES:

A Core Competency is a skill that all learners need to have to be successful in all aspects of their life. There are 3 core competencies: Communication (Communicating & Collaborating), Thinking (Critical Thinking, Creative and Reflective Thinking), Personal (Personal Awareness and Responsibility, Social Awareness and Responsibility and Positive Personal and Cultural Identity).

COURSE EXPECTATIONS:

- The self-paced nature of this course requires that students manage their time effectively to complete the course by the deadline (typically a year from the date of registration). Successful students make a weekly schedule to plan out the completion of the course.
- Students must take care that their work is their own and not plagiarized from any other source. This includes previous work submitted for another course, other people's assignments, or resources from the internet.
- Students must not use an online translator, app, etc. to produce whole sentences or paragraphs, which constitutes plagiarism. Students should only look up individual words or expressions using a trustworthy dictionary site such as WordReference or Linguee. It is also acceptable to use Bon Patron to verify the grammatical structures of a student's original work which they wrote themselves.
- Students must read all the information thoroughly and complete all activities in the course in order to be successful in the course.
- Students must take care that their communication with the teacher through email, D2L message, or in person, is course related, clear and respectful.
- Students need to be able to create videos of themselves as some of the submitted assignments in this course.
- Students should contact their teacher through D2L messaging or Microsoft Teams if they require help with the course content as they work through the lessons and activities.
