

Daily Announcements

Here are your Windsor Morning Announcements for Monday Dec 2nd

1. Club Yugo is collecting recyclable bottles, cans and juice boxes to raise money for activities. If you have any empty bottles, cans, milk containers or juice boxes, please bring them to Room E206. We have a blue bin just inside of the door for recyclables.
2. Hot chocolate sales held by green team in December 2nd - 5th in the foyer during lunch and tutorial. Bring your own mug to get free hot chocolate. Forgot your cup, you can purchase one for $1.00
3. Are you looking to earn volunteer hours? Our Leadership students are seeking volunteers to assist with arts and crafts as we decorate the library for the holiday season! The event will take place this Thursday during lunch. If you're interested, simply scan the QR code on the posters around the school to sign up. We look forward to seeing you there!
4. The Windsor Library Leadership team has created a special collection and display of international authors to highlight the width and breadth of diverse writers in the library. Come explore the many different titles of books in the library from authors from around the world to celebrate global voices and perspectives. Open a book and open your mind!
5. Are you interested in travel and different cultures? Are you curious about Japan and its amazing people and lifestyle? Windsor is looking for applicants to take part in the next exchange with our sister high school in Obu, Japan. If you are curious and want to learn more, please attend a lunch meeting next Tuesday in the library lab to learn more or see Mrs Ottenbreit in the library. Sayonara!
